Description

Established in 1773, Istanbul Technical University (ITU) is a state university specialising in engineering and architecture. It provides its students with innovative educational facilities while retaining traditional values and is ranked first among Universities for Engineering and Technology in Turkey in the QS World University Rankings. It's active Erasmus Student Network society organises social events and student discounts in Istanbul.

Surrounding Area

Istanbul is the largest city in Turkey, constituting the country's economic, cultural, and historical heart. Istanbul is a transcontinental city in Eurasia, with its commercial and historical centre lying on the continental European side and about a third of its population living on the Asian side. It's diverse heritage makes for a vibrant, inclusive and expanding community with a cosmopolitan food scene and city rich in ancient Greek, Ottoman and Byzantine architecture.

Accommodation

Support in finding private accommodation is available from ITU's Exchange Student Network. Expect to pay around £350 per month to rent an apartment including all bills.

How to apply

When successfully selected by UWE and nominated to ITU you will need to submit an online application by their June 1st deadline.
Required Documents include a signed and stamped application form, academic transcript and digital photo.
