

Equality Impact Analysis

This form enables you to reflect on your proposed activity, and to assess the potential positive and negative impacts it might have on different members of the community. The Equality Impact Analysis is designed to help you ensure your activities are meaningfully considered and not spending your time on an activity that will later need to be changed or disbanded due to not thinking about the practical needs of diverse communities who we are required to protect. If you have any questions about how to complete this Equality Impact Analysis, please read the Guidance or contact the Equity, Diversity and Inclusion Team: edi@uwe.ac.uk.

Activity Title: Global Majority Sport Community Project and the activities involved

Project Manager and Contact: Tamara Getter tamara2.getter@uwe.ac.uk

Proposed activity (change, refresh, policy, process or practice) being analysed

Enter short description of what it is, the objectives and why you are doing it. If you are amending a current activity, what changes are proposed? Please outline the ways that students, staff, visitors or contractors might experience changes in their day to day lives e.g., changes to buildings, working hours, administrative processes.

Working with the Global Majority community to gather feedback and evidence on participation in sport and activity, including any barriers. Recruiting a student activator to coordinate and be 'the face' of the project. Working with existing sport and activity programmes to implement any changes identified, as well as explore any new ideas suggested. All aiming to increase the sense of belonging and participation from the Global Majority community and contribute positively to their physical mental and social health at UWE as well as their overall student experience.

- We have limited existing data on current participation statistics but are working from a reasonable assumption that the same barriers and the impact structural / systemic racism has on our academic award gap, will also presents itself in student participation in sporting activity at UWE, and for the same reasons. National and global physical activity data supports this being a reality.
- The key change to existing services will be the implementation of a research piece and subsequent targeted and tailored activity to meet the needs of students representing the global majority, with a view to subsume this content into our regular offer to make it more inclusive, relevant and accessible to students from this audience.

- We are employing a student activator to bridge the gap between staff and student understanding and supporting them to gather data, innovate with relevant content and be the driving force behind positive action in this space.

What sources of information/ data, or who have you identified to help explore potential equalities impacts?

Examples include: External or Sector data/research, Staffing Statistics, Student or Staff Networks, specific stakeholders.

Stakeholders from across the university involved in meetings and shaping the project. Information and advice from the anti-racism strategy and team. Data collection with Global Majority students.

- Membership demographic details (CFS and SU)
- Work from other HE organisations including Nottingham and University of Bristol
- Our approach will be inductive and begins with data capture in the form of anonymised surveys and longitudinal focus groups to help us identify key themes, trends and the most prevalent barriers to engagement from Global Majority students.

Assessing the activity from different perspectives

Might your proposal impact people who identify with the protected groups below in the following contexts?

- Access to or participation in UWE Bristol Faculties or Professional Services?
- Student experience, attainment or withdrawal?
- Staff experience, representation, or progression?

Explain why you have made that assessment and plan your response.

In the short term we aim to increase student experience and in the longer term we hope long term to have an impact on student recruitment, attainment and continuation by increasing sense of belonging and being more accessible to all.

Action Planning: how will you mitigate negative and maximise positive outcomes?

Please feed information from this action plan to your activity's own planning documents e.g., action plans, risk registers, benefits maps

All (possible impacts affecting many groups)	Should only be positive - aiming to increase the accessibility of sport and activity at UWE, for those from the Global Majority. White / home students gain a more representative and enriching experience and spend time enjoying physical activity with people from a broader range of cultures, ethnicities, values and lived experiences. Sport becomes a unifying talisman and trailblazer for the necessary work to combat racism in our society and tangibly	We create segregated spaces rather than fostering an inclusive community. Messaging is key, the project seeks to see more participation from global majority students but is suitable for all students and an excellent way to demonstrate allyship and support. Without appropriate co-creation we could create activity ‘for’ students and not ‘with’ them and this offer would be both ineffective and tokenistic	Data gathering for existing experience and suggestions through surveys/focus groups with students from the Global Majority. Create ‘you said, we did’ or feedback process to those that take part in data gathering process to inform them of outcomes.	TG/PB	June 26 for data collection June 27 for participation programmes	Survey Uptake Focus group attendance and thematic analysis Session participation NPS Score Feedback qualitative outcomes Project Review from BUCS

Age (older people, younger people)	This is a co-recreation project with students so should reflect preferences. Racism in, and Eurocentric approaches to, sport are ubiquitous and so addressing these will likely mean that the barriers faced by age are minor by comparison and in line with the wider ethos of the project should create safe spaces for people of all ages to come together in celebration, recognition and solidarity.	If certain people don't engage with the research methods their point of view may be lost. If we don't recognise the challenge of being a mature student and try to reach them through targeted invite channels and relevant networks we are unlikely to see their participation	Ensure promo and research methods are accessible to all. Appropriate use of language and terminology to encapsulate and appeal to a wide range of ages Mixed methods of promotion (not just social media) Mindful ongoing consideration to intersectionality and especially ageist perceptions of student at all	TG/PB	June 26 for data collection June 27 for participation programmes	Diversity in Survey Uptake Focus group attendance and thematic analysis Session participation NPS Score Feedback qualitative outcomes Project Review from BUCS

Women and men	Opportunities could be created for new people to take part who are currently disengaged.	Activity could attract certain genders/others could feel excluded. Failure to recognise barriers faced through faith by women in sport could mean they are unable to participate	Ensure we use a range of imagery and terminology. Ensure or focus group and survey sample has gender parity where possible. Ensure any new activity recognises and caters for differing trends or preference in activity type based on gender and tries to provide mixed or gender neutral spaces and activity. So what?

Consultation and engagement feedback is extremely important in Equality Impact Analysis. Listening to student and staff voices and acting on their feedback mean that activities become fit for purpose for diverse student and staff communities. Complete the 'You Said, We Did' table before and after formal consultation, and throughout the remaining lifetime of your activity to show the impact of feedback on your activity. The Equity, Diversity and Inclusion Team will be in touch to gather examples of this feedback to share with equality stakeholders. Please add additional rows to the table as required.
