

Equality Analysis

This form enables you to reflect on your proposed activity, and to assess the potential positive and negative impacts it might have on different members of the community. The Equality Analysis is designed to help you ensure your activities are meaningfully considered and not spending your time on an activity that will later need to be changed or disbanded due to not thinking about the practical needs of diverse communities who we are required to protect. If you have any questions about how to complete this Equality Analysis, please read the Guidance or contact the Equality and Diversity Unit: EqualityandDiversityUnit@uwe.ac.uk.

Activity Title	Festival of Learning 2020
Project Managers and Contacts	Julia Denman and Louise Mighall Project Lead: Laura Bennett

1. Proposed activity (change, refresh, policy, process or practice) being analysed

Aim of proposed activity:

The Academic Practice Directorate (APD) is committed to providing a Festival of Learning (FOL) that promotes diversity of attendance and inclusivity of participation by promoting equality of opportunity for all attendees and providing an inclusive and accessible platform to share and promote best practice to enhance the student learning experience at UWE.

The aim of the Festival of Learning project is to hold an inclusive, sustainable conference for UWE Bristol staff which takes a practice-led approach to Learning and Teaching (L&T). It will include sessions and themes which are sufficiently varied to appeal to all colleagues involved in teaching and supporting learning at UWE (irrespective of the campus, faculty and/or professional service to which they belong). We want to challenge, encourage and inspire them to strive for excellence, and provide practical suggestions for how they might develop their practice.

The objectives and why we are doing it.

- Reach all groups of staff, speaking or attending
- Relevance
- Exemplify and promote inclusivity
- Contributors and delegates to be inspired and motivated to engage with the themes and to implement what they have learnt for the right reasons
- Creating an ambitious, open and inclusive event where staff can thrive and flourish.
- Want contributors and attendees to acquire new knowledge in whichever form (Sharing knowledge and best practice and networking to strengthen and enhance the learning and teaching community across all campuses).

If you are amending a current activity, what changes are proposed?

UWE University of the West of England

The Festival of Learning is a new style of event that started in 2019 which built on the success of the annual UWE Bristol Learning and Teaching Conference that was first held in 2011. With each event we have strived to be as inclusive as possible and asked all participants for any adjustments required. We felt this year following further research into the area of equality, diversity and inclusivity and providing inclusive conferences that we could go further.

Our original planning for inclusive practice (before Covid 19 necessitated online delivery):

We have retained this planning in the Equality Analysis as it will be relevant to any future face-to-face events; we welcome feedback. For ease of reference, we have marked in red where actions will not be required or have been amended as a result of the move to online delivery.

- Amended wording of programme to become more inclusive of people on the Autistic spectrum, removing the word 'mingle' and replacing with networking opportunities with quiet spaces available and therefore not requiring participants to attend a mingle before they register for the session. /not required for online
- Sessions to fall within school hours to provide ease of caring responsibilities
- Signposted/ designated prayer rooms, breast feeding room, quiet room /not required for online
- Signpost gender neutral toilet facilities / not required for online
- Titles (e.g. Dr) and gender-specific pronouns will not be used in the event programme
- Colleagues to create own name badges to reflect how they would like to be referred to, pronoun stickers They/Them, He/Him, She/Her encouraged./ for online; participants encouraged to make name badge at home for video sessions.
- Standard catering options will be vegetarian/ not required for online
- All rooms to be easily accessible by all attendees/ not required for online
- All session materials to be run through Ally/accessibility checker and available for participants to download in their preferred format.
- Permission will be sought to take photographs, video or event capture
- Seating will be available, including during networking sessions/ not required for online
- Lecture capture/video record all sessions, subject to their agreement where applicable.
- All participants will be asked what adjustments they need to attend or contribute to this event (for example, dietary, accessible parking, alternative document format, or needing to arrive or leave at different times due to caring responsibilities)/where appropriate for online delivery
- Additional changes made for producing the Festival of Learning online:
 - Opening up online sessions 30 mins before each session for any participants to arrive early.
 - Ensuring where possible we upload recordings of sessions for viewing after the date and time or anyone to attend if they are unable to make the scheduled times.
 - Session materials will be uploaded to BlackBoard 48 hours in advance providing we have received them from contributors) for participants to download in their preferred format through BlackBoard Ally.
 - Including virtual networking and programmed screen breaks.

Making programme clear if there are session overlaps or if a session is likely to run over time and into a scheduled lunch break. We are aware of the importance of sticking to a timeframe for those who have signed up for it.

We have not had any previous experience or reporting of incidents of unacceptable behaviour happening at any APD event but recognise that they sometimes do occur, therefore we have developed a Participant Commitment, which any attendee and contributor registering to the Festival of Learning is asked to agree to. We have revised this to take account of our online format.

Participant Commitment

UWE

Bristol

This participant commitment sets expectations for participants' (which includes contributors') behaviour during the conference, and outlines how to report an incident of discrimination, bullying or harassment should participants experience them. All participants are expected to

- Be considerate, inclusive, respectful and collaborative
- Refrain from intimidating, discriminatory, harassing or demeaning behaviour (see unacceptable behaviour in the later section)
- Alert staff if you notice someone in distress ٠

Unacceptable behaviour

UWE Bristol takes unacceptable behaviour seriously. Participants found to be engaging in behaviour that violates this code of conduct will be dealt with via the University's Dignity at Work and equality and diversity procedures (find out more here). Examples of unacceptable behaviour include: intimidation, harassment, bullying, discrimination, derogatory or demeaning conduct related to age, disability, gender, gender identity, language, marriage/ civil partnership status, national or social origin, physical appearance, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sexual orientation.

The APD is committed to creating and maintaining a friendly, safe and inclusive environment at the Festival of Learning 2020, regardless of age, disability, gender, gender identity, language, marriage/ civil partnership status, national or social origin, physical appearance, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sexual orientation. We value the participation of each attendee and want them to have an enjoyable and fulfilling experience.

Reporting unacceptable behaviour

If you are being subject to or notice that someone else is being subject to unacceptable behaviour, or have any other concerns, please take one of the following actions:

- Report it directly to a member of the APD team.
- An incident reporting form is available on the UWE Bristol website.
- Private message session chair during live online session. •

We encourage all participants to report any form of unacceptable behaviour even if there is no wish for a formal follow-up procedure to take place. This will help us better understand the varying degrees of unacceptable behaviour taking place, and explore how we can prevent them in future events.

Freedom of Speech

The University believes that a culture of free and open discussion is essential in its role as an academic institution. This culture can only be achieved if all concerned behave with necessary tolerance and avoid needlessly offensive or provocative action or language. The University expects all persons taking part in its activities to respect its values, be sensitive to the diversity of its community and to show respect to all sections of that community. The University will refuse to allow meetings to take place where it is likely to give rise to an environment in which people will experience, or could reasonably fear, harassment, intimidation, verbal abuse or violence, particularly because of their age, disability, gender, gender identity, language, marriage/ civil partnership status, national or social origin, physical appearance, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sexual orientation. A meeting conducted under such circumstances is also likely to be unlawful.

2. What sources of information/data, or who have you identified to help explore potential equalities impacts?

Examples include:

3. Assessing the activity from different perspectives

Might your proposal impact people who identify with the protected groups below in the following contexts?

- Access to or participation in UWE Bristol Faculties or Professional Services?
- Student experience, attainment or withdrawal?
- Staff experience, representation, or progression?

We designed the programme to combine quality and diversity when considering the overarching Festival theme, propositions, speakers and contributors. BlackBoard Collaborate,Mentimeter and Panopto.A list of FAQs' will be sent to contributors to help support their online preparation.	contributors to discuss any concerns they have using the online platforms to support their delivery.
Positive impacts include:
Online delivery provides a greater degree of flexibility and control for participants, which will benefit a lot of diverse groups.
Consistency across online delivery should mean that attendees with a disability using assistive technology are more able to prepare for sessions, and can more easily access materials that might often be shared on a screen or handout, during face-to-face delivery. Online delivery also reduces barriers around accessibility and navigation of the venue for attendees with physical or mental health conditions.
Producing the Festival of Learning online will provide a positive opportunity for colleagues to connect, network and explore online using the that will be used for teaching in the new academic year. It provides a valuable opportunity for us to come together as one UWE community when we are physically apart, and have been so for some time.

The overarching theme of the FOL and each proposition has been designed to have a positive impact across the university staff body.
Under the overarching theme of "Working collaboratively to enhance the student learning experience at UWE Bristol" the sessions during the Festival will address one or more of the following propositions:
Proposition 1: The reduction of attainment gaps is the responsibility of everyone at UWE Bristol
Proposition 2: Robust, inclusive and authentic assessment and constructive feedback should be treated as fundamental elements of the student learning experience
Proposition 3: The whole is greater than the sum of its		alusia Daga 11

Age (older people, younger people)	It is not anticipated that there will be particular negative or positive impacts on these groups.
Disability , including mental health and non- visible disabilities	Consistency across online delivery should mean that attendees with a disability using assistive technology are more able to prepare for sessions, and can more easily access materials that might often be shared on a screen or handout, during face-to-face delivery. Online delivery also reduces barriers around accessibility and navigation of the venue for attendees with physical or mental health conditions. Contributors and Participants will be informed via planned communication to request a quest sign in if preferred.
Marriage and/or civil partnership	Do not expect there to be a negative impact on this group
Pregnancy and/or maternity , including Adoption	In a face-to-face event we would provide specific quiet spaces for this group. We'll be online, so attendees will be able to make themselves comfortable at home during the Festival, and they have the option to turn off their camera

	if they wish during sessions so that they can be more private.Regular screen break sessions have been included into the programme.Wherever possible (as explained elsewhere in this document), sessions will be recorded and available to view at a later date.
Race, including ethnicity and citizenship	One of the propositions of the Festival focuses on reduction of BAME attainment gap. The FOL programme design acknowledges the diverse staff body. A key aspect of this programme is to allow safe spaces and time to acknowledge, surface and share expertise. Some sessions in particular will offer space for participants to work together, share experiences and as such benefit from acknowledging the expertise that each participant brings and the learning opportunity it offers others. Sexual orientation	It is not anticipated that there will be particular negative or positive impacts on these groups.
	We've produced a code of conduct referred to as a 'participant commitment' outlined in section1. We have not had any previous experience or reporting of incidents of unacceptable behaviour happening at any APD event but recognise that they sometimes do occur, therefore we have developed a Participant Commitment, which any attendee and contributor registering to the Festival of Learning is asked to agree to. We have revised this to take account of our online format.

	This participant commitment sets expectations for participants' (which includes contributors') behaviour during the conference, and outlines how to report an incident of discrimination, bullying or harassment should participants experience them.

¹A positive outcome or impact is where a person or people may experience an advantage or benefit as a result of the proposed change. This includes positive action to overcome a disadvantage, meet different needs or encourage participation. For example, increasing lighting in public spaces of campus, which increases personal safety, particularly for people from protected groups. A negative outcome or impact is where a person or people may experience a disadvantage compared with others, or compared with what was previously available, or planned. For example a new bus service is set up to help all students travel between campuses, but no drop kerbs or accessible buses are available. Bear in mind that some negative outcomes may be justified on the basis of a legal requirement or applicable exemption including use of positive action or where the outcome would conflict with other legislation, e.g. Health & Safety. If a negative outcome can not be mitigated due to a legal requirement, identify the legislation and considerations you have considered to reduce the negative impact and/or rationale for the decision.

7. So what?

Consultation and engagement feedback is extremely important in Equality Analysis. Listening to student and staff voices and acting on their feedback mean that activities become fit for purpose for diverse student and staff communities. Complete the 'You Said, We Did' table before and after formal consultation, and throughout the remaining lifetime of your activity to show the impact of feedback on your activity. The Equality and Diversity Unit will be in touch to gather examples of this feedback to share with equality stakeholders. Please add additional rows to the table as required.

You said	We did
	We have significantly increased our research and planning for an inclusive Conference in 2020 and made appropriate changes for the online format.
I am just responding to the equality analysis consultation for the Festival of Learning.	Thank you very much for your response to the equality analysis consultation for the Festival of Learning and appreciate your perspective on the omission of titles.
I wanted to highlight the below:
"The programme does not include titles; Mr, Ms, Mx, Mrs, Prof, Dr so that all contributors are listed in a gender-neutral format and given equal billing irrespective of their academic	You make a good point about including Mx as an option as this is a positive choice.
achievements."	We wanted to try and keep the programme equal for academic status to provide an equal billing and felt we should remove all titles as well as part of this.
I feel that omitting the choice of letting people put their prefix could be exclusive of trans and gender non confirming attendees. The way that Mx is used as a title has a lot of significance in terms of how an individual (should they choose to use it) be wishes to be identified.	We have designed 'make your own' name badges for face to face so all attendees could refer to themselves in the way they wanted and we had the option of pronoun stickers he/him, they/them, she/her to stick on the badges.
Let me know if you have any further questions.	We are aware that moving online has removed this option for us, unless participants make name badges as home.
	We have asked contributors and we will be asking participants during planned correspondence to be mindful of the language used during the festival to remain gender neutral.
	Our aim is not to exclude choice for trans and gender non confirming attendees to share their identity it was to provide a welcoming, neutral atmosphere.
	We welcome your thoughts.
	Best wishes
