

To Whom It May Concern,

This letter is only for students on the MASTER OF ARCHITECTURE programme started at UWE in September 2025

This letter confirms that students holding a Student Visa are eligible to work in the UK, subject to the conditions specified by the Home Office.

Immigration authorities take work restrictions very seriously. If a student exceeds permitted hours or engages in forbidden work, they may face refusal of an immigration application or removal from the UK. Additionally, a student might be prevented from returning to the UK for a certain period.

During term time, students holding a student visa must not work more hours than stated in their "Right to Work" document, except for an approved work placement or internship. For more information, see the UWE—Work placements webpage.

It is the Employer's responsibility to do the right-to-work check. If permission to work is not specified in the right-to-work check document, the student is not allowed to work.

For more information regarding international students working in the UK, please visit:

- Student Sponsor Guidance Document 2: Sponsorship Duties. Version 04/2026 - Please refer to 6.1, 6.13, and 6.23.
- Right to work checks: an employer's guide
- UK Council for International Student Affairs website
- Checking a job applicant's right to work
- Navigating work and study with a Student visa

Depending on the education provider, study term dates may end on any day of the week. Therefore, if the educational institution's term time ends on a Friday, full-time work would be permitted from the next day (in this scenario, a Saturday). A week is considered to run from Monday to Sunday. The student sponsor (UWE) should confirm the term start and end dates, as well as the official vacation periods, on its website, accessible to students and their potential employers. This will allow employers to ensure students are not in breach of their visa conditions.

Please note that:

- The University cannot issue an individual, bespoke letter stating a student's right to work.
- Wording on this document cannot be edited at an employer's request.
- ❖ For international students, the "Expected end of attendance date" on the Status letter is for UWE's internal use only and should be disregarded by employers. Employers should use the CAS end date and visa expiry date to establish the start and end dates of the wrap-up period.
- ❖ The wrap-up period starts on the day after the course end date on the current CAS.

This letter is based on UKVI rules and guidance. Whilst every effort is made to ensure the accuracy of the information contained in this letter, the University stresses that details may be subject to alteration or omission.

Attention Students

If your employer asks you for confirmation of your right to work, direct them to the UK Visas and Immigration (UKVI) website GOV.UK - Checking a job applicant's right to work.

If you need to get a share code to prove your right to work to an employer, you may use the following link: <https://www.gov.uk/prove-right-to-work>.

It is important that you are aware of your employment rights to help you recognise if you are at risk of being exploited by your employer or at risk of becoming a victim of modern slavery.

Your employer should not:

- Confiscate your passport or other ID document from you
- Ask you to pay a recruitment fee
- Tell you to work an excessive number of hours
- Pay you below the minimum hourly wage
- Pay you 'in-kind', e.g. force you to live in accommodation provided by the employer instead of payment for your work
- Force you to work against your will
- Coerce you to do things that you are uncomfortable with, or that you think might be illegal

If you experience any of the above or you think you might be a victim of exploitation by an employer, please contact the Serious Concerns team at UWE on 01173284000 for advice immediately.

It is illegal for your employer to pay you cash in hand without deducting tax and National Insurance contributions from your wages. If you accept money in this way, you risk losing your employment rights and your student visa. In addition, you could end up having to pay the tax and National Insurance contributions yourself.

Work students must not do:

- Students can undertake most types of work but must NOT engage in business activity, self-employment or be employed as a professional sportsperson, entertainer, or doctor in training. There is a useful blog post available at the UKCISA website that should help you to decide if the job you would like to take up is allowed under a Student visa <https://www.ukcisa.org.uk/student-advice/working/working-after-studies/>

Volunteering

- Volunteering does not count towards your maximum 10 or 20 hours if it meets the definition of volunteering in the Student route caseworker guidance (page 94):
- "Volunteers do not have a contract, they must not be a substitute for an employee, and they must not be doing unpaid work – for example, receiving payment in kind (although they are sometimes reimbursed for reasonable travel and subsistence expenses). [...] Volunteers usually help a charity or voluntary or public sector organisation."
- Any other kind of unpaid or voluntary work that does not meet this definition will count towards your weekly 10 or 20 hours limit.

The national Student Volunteering Week takes place every February.
