Time to put your feet up

If you had resits, we hope they went swimmingly and you're now able to enjoy the rest of your summer - come rain or shine.

Keep a look out for your published results in myUWE from Tuesday 8 August.

Second in our series of healthcare documentary shorts is the story of cancer survivor Tom and our wonderful radiotherapy students.

Are we hitting the mark?

We'd love to hear your thoughts about your UWE Bristol in our 5 question survey. What do you want to read more about? Less about?

Deadline for Extenuating Circumstances

Did you have resits, assessments from 10 July - 21 July or modules which ended on 21 July? If you need to submit Extenuating Circumstances for this period, the deadline for applications is 14:00 this Friday, 28 July.

As always, we recommend chatting to an Information Point adviser before you submit your application.

We're looking for students to be filmed in our new Bristol Business School building.

So if you're free on Wednesday 23 August, 10:00 - 16:00 and are comfortable flashing your smile in front of a camera, get in touch. You don't have to be a business or law student to get involved.

Lunch will be provided. Did we mention you'll be internationally famous once the film's launched?

You'll have to live without Blackboard for a few days

We'll be upgrading Blackboard from 07:00 on Monday 14 August through to 09:00 on Thursday 17 August - which means it'll be unavailable during that time.

So make sure you download anything you need before then - but we'll remind you nearer the time!

Questions? Give Blackboard Support a call on 0117 32 85735, they'll be happy to help.

In case you missed it...

The Duke of York visits the University Enterprise Zone

Last week we had royalty on Frenchay Campus in the form of The Duke of York. Prince Andrew visited the University Enterprise Zone to hear business ideas from local entrepreneurs in a Pitch@Palace event. Think Dragons' Den: bidders pitched their innovative products and services to a panel of judges to secure a place in the next round of the competition.

And whilst Prince Andrew was on campus, he officially opened future_space - so a good day all in all!

What's the University Enterprise Zone?

Did you know that on Frenchay Campus we have one of only four University Enterprise Zones in the UK? It's in the building between The Students' Union and the Exhibition and Conference Centre. Inside is the Bristol Robotics Laboratory and future_space. It's part of our ambition to spark collaboration between our researchers, innovators and entrepreneurs and prepare you with entrepreneurial skills.

Also, keep an eye out for launch_space, opening in the autumn. It's an enterprise incubator where you'll be able to give your business idea a go in a supportive, collaborative environment. Applications will open in 2018, so if you have a great business idea, keep an eye out for all the opportunities over the next year.

By this time next year, you could be in launch_space - being your own boss!

YOUR 2017/18 STUDENT LEADERS

AND THEIR MESSAGE FOR YOU...

President, Zain Choudhry

Here at UWE Bristol, we celebrate diversity and inclusiveness to help better your student experience. Be bold, be active and be involved!

VP Education, Jamie Jordon

I represent you on all academic matters, locally and nationally. This can range from the curriculum, to course costs, assessments and access to education.

VP Sports and Health, Erin Mills

I'm here to support and encourage all of you looking to get involved with sports, either socially or competitively, regardless of your ability and background.

VP Community and Welfare, Siân Hampson

I champion student welfare issues and work to celebrate the community and diversity that we have at UWE Bristol.

VP Societies and Communication, Bahkai Wynter

I'm here to ensure you have a fulfilling time at university. There's loads of activities, so join a society and be a part of something amazing!

Level 2 and Placement Year students:

4,159 students, 2 weeks, 1 reason - graduation!

Take a look at this summer's happy graduates – gowned up and glorious. It'll be you before you know it!

Catch the highlights in Storify

Glenside:

Glenside Library is closed this weekend (29 and 30 July)

But don't panic – you'll still be able to use the Glenside Learning Zone, open every day from 07:30–00:00.

Also, if you don't mind trekking up the hill, you can use Frenchay Library. Due to building works, access is currently via the large lecture theatre foyer (Glendinning, 2D67), near the back of the Community Hub - you use either the lift or the stairs.

Gloucester:

What's the most important thing about Alexandra Warehouse library?

Our library staff are keen to hear your thoughts about the library's resources. They've introduced a feedback board - and first up, they'd like to know what's the most important thing about the library for you.

The question on the board will change as the year progresses – so get scribbling to have your say before it changes!

Science students:

Are you interested in nanoscience?

The University of Bristol are hosting this year's International Nanoscience Student Conference (INASCON) from Monday 21 August - Thursday 24 August.

The programme is set to include talks by students and leading international scientists, a poster session, a workshop, and opportunities to get to know other delegates.

Take a look at previous conferences to get a sense of what it's going to be like.
