Graduate-designed Gromit to go on display at Bower Ashton

A Gromit sculpture painted by two recent graduates is to go on display at Bower Ashton as part of the Gromit Unleashed 2 public arts trail. They've named their design 'Deerest Gromit' as it was inspired by the deer in the Ashton Court Estate next to Bower Ashton.

If you're in Bristol over the summer, take some time out to do the trail!

Are you accepting Excused Credit or an Interim Award?

If so, please email graduation@uwe.ac.uk to confirm that you'll be claiming an interim award or Excused Credit and you would like to graduate in July.

You need to do this by 12:00 midday on Friday 6 July - if you confirm any later than this, your graduation will be deferred to a November award ceremony.

Is your student ID lost or broken?

You can order a replacement through the online store and pick it up from an Information Point. If you've got exams coming up, you'll need to display it on your exam table.

Keep well during the summer

The summer can be great but it can also be tricky to adjust to the change to the usual routine. One of our Wellbeing practitioners has pulled together some of her tips to keeping well during the summer.

Poppy Appeal artistic design project

The British Legion are marking the 100th anniversary of the end of World War I and want to work with students to create a special tribute on College Green. They would like to create a display of poppies on College Green, made of up of 5000 ten inch waterproof poppies, and are looking for students with artistic flair to create a design and implement this by Thursday 25 October.

If you're interested, take a look at the opportunity - it closes on Friday 29 June.

Volunteers needed for St. Paul's Carnival

Volunteers are essential to the carnival - it can't be done without them!

The organisers are looking for help with event organisation, promotion, stewarding, recycling and on the day support.

It's a great way to experience the day. Don't just spectate: participate!

International students

Beware of fraud attempts targeting international students

We've been made aware that a number of international students in the UK have recently fallen victim to extortion attempts. Extortion is when someone tries to get something from you (especially money) through force or threats.

We've written some guidance about how to keep your personal details safe online and what to do if you think you've been a victim of a fraud attempt.
