

Healthy, resilient, smart and sustainable places

A showcase of research from the Centre for Sustainable Planning and Environments

Wednesday 22nd June 2022, Design West, Bristol

The Centre for Sustainable Planning and Environments is focussed on understanding and shaping healthy, resilient, sustainable and smart places, in the context of climate and ecological emergencies.

Programme

Registration	09:30-10:00
Welcome: Professor Danni Sinnett	10:00-10:05
The role of Local Planning Authorities in bringing forward brownfield land Nick Croft	10:05-10:25
Levelling Up, the New Municipalism and local governance capacity in Bristol and Stoke on Trent Dr Stephen Hall and Dr Andrew Tallon	10:25-10:45
Smart city governance integrating the urban nexus Professor David Ludlow	10:45-11:05
The Bristol Referendum 2022 - where next for city governance and local democracy in Bristol? Professor Robin Hambleton and Dr Thom Oliver	11:05-11:25
Coffee	11:25-11:40
Post-planning consent and design quality Hannah Hickman	11:40-12:00
Designing publicness: Imaginaries, Infrastructures, Consequences Dr Elahe Karimnia	12:00-12:20
Re-reading 'absent' urban boundaries Mike Devereux	12:20-12:40
Contemporary artists map the city Dr Gloria Lanci	12:40-1:00
Lunch	1:00-2:00
Art and wellbeing Dr Michael Buser	2:00-2:20
Somali foodways in Bristol Jo Bushell	2:20-2:40
Co-producing nature-based solutions with local partners Dr Helen Hoyle	2:40-3:00
Coffee	3:00-3:30
Differing perspectives of green infrastructure in Bristol Professor Danni Sinnett	3:30-3:50
Planning cemeteries: Potential contribution to green infrastructure and ecosystem services Dr Katie McClymont	3:50-4:10
Delivering green infrastructure through major residential development Nick Smith	4:10-4:30
Green space use under lockdown Rachel Marsh	4:30-4:50
Close	5:00